Southern California's new hotels that made the 2019 Hot List

If you like getting suggestions on hot new places to stay, check out the 2019 Hot List that Conde Nast Traveler dropped on Tuesday. Five hotels in Southern California were among the 75 worldwide picks made by the magazine's editors and contributors.

Hotel Joaquin in Laguna Beach is an “upcycled beach motel with a French accent and mid-century attitude,” the magazine's description said. It has 22 rooms and isn't far from the beach. $449.
